How can we comply?

SAGECare has developed an additional module that can be added to our management training, (or purchased separately if you have already received the management training recently) entitled New York State Long-Term Care Bill of Rights which satisfied the administrative requirements for the Bill. Our Creating Inclusive Communities – NY course satisfies the staff specific requirements of this regulation and is available as an on-demand video or through our learning management system, giving your staff the flexibility to complete the training individually or as a group.
